

Candice McField

Candice is a personal trainer, professional figure competitor and fitness model born and raised in Wyandotte County.

Her favorite phrase is “una mas,” or one more—a pretty good sign that whoever wins a date with her is going to have a very good time.

How could he not? First, he’ll be treated to a 30-minute personal training session with Scott Heffner, personal training director of Gold’s Gym. That’s just a warm up for a vigorous bout of racquetball and basketball with Candice herself. Unwind with dinner and jazz at the InterContinental Hotel on the Plaza, but don’t stay out too late, because you want to be awake to you catch the first flight to Chicago the next day—a generous day trip gifted by attorney Pat Biscanon and Global Business Enterprises’ Burton Wheeler. Once there, Candice will take you to her favorite breakfast spot in the wide world, the Sweet Maple Restaurant. Better fuel up at breakfast, because she has plans to show you the best shopping in the city, including a $100 spree at Niketown, donated by BK Energy’s Bruce Cue, and a $40 splurge at Garrett’s Popcorn Shop, courtesy of Darren Chaney.

Come bid on Candice, KC Magazine’s Sexiest Single!
